

BRITISH MOVE ON, SEIZING THIEPVAL

Complete Capture of Pivotal Point in Desperate Fight.

FRENCH ADVANCE TO MORVAL

Dead Fill Combles as Allies Hunt Down Defenders—Take Great Store of Booty From Trapped Germans. Final Fight Dramatic.

London, Sept. 27.—Combles, the pivotal point in the German line guarding the approach to Bapaume on the north and Peronne on the south, became one of the bloodiest battlefields of the war as the British and French, after penetrating the town's defenses and isolating it, swept through it and dispatched the trapped Germans.

By night, what the British official statement graphically described as "cleaning up" the stronghold, maintained so long by the Germans, had been completed.

Thiepval, at the northwestern end of the British line, and the fortified town of Gueudecourt, northwest of Lesbœufs, fell into the hands of General Haig's troops.

Battle after battle has raged around this point since the beginning of the allied offensive.

Capture Strong Post.

From here the British drove on eastward and took the Zollern road, a strongly fortified position between Thiepval and the bend in the British line at Courcellette.

The French smashed ahead also, and advanced beyond Fregicourt, taken Monday, and captured the wood between Fregicourt and Morval.

The greater part of the German fortified positions lying between this wood and the western portion of St. Vaast wood, to the east of the Bethune road, also were occupied. Thus another portion of the German line of communication to the south of Bapaume was nipped off.

The final struggle in the streets and houses and subterranean passages of Combles was one of the most dramatic of the war.

French and British troops swept in from three sides after their capture of Morval and Fregicourt, broke through the German defenses, overran the town and carried all before them.

Bodies Lie Everywhere.

This place, with its marvelous subterranean passages and powerful fortifications, had been caught in the grip of the entente allies, who, coming from the north and the south, already had advanced far beyond it and cut off communication with the rear except a narrow strip, which was covered by the allied guns. At the end of the fighting the town was filled with the bodies of Germans who had fallen fighting, the French official statement says.

The German casualties in the fighting are declared by Paris to have been heavy, and, in addition, during the two days' fighting more than 1,200 Germans were made prisoners by the French, while the British took in excess of 1,500. Large quantities of booty, including machine guns, were taken by the allies.

ATHENS ALL EXCITED; EXPECTS WAR MOVE

Athens, Sept. 27.—In circles very close to King Constantine the belief is expressed that he will declare war immediately.

With the departure of M. Venizelos from Athens a general exodus of his adherents began. Former deputies and former ministers of the Liberal party, army officers and government officials are leaving Athens as rapidly as they can obtain transportation.

The greatest excitement prevails in Athens. In some quarters the feeling was expressed that M. Venizelos' action had been hastened by the prospect of an early agreement regarding Greece's entry into the war, and it was considered that the Cretan was playing his last trump in the struggle with the king.

The information that an agreement is about reached between Greece and the entente comes from official sources and is based on telegrams from Greek ministers in entente capitals.

Diver Sinks Italian Bark.

Washington, Sept. 27.—The American consul at Barcelona advised the state department that the Italian bark Garibaldi, with a cargo of coal, from Baltimore to Leghorn, was sunk by a submarine Sept. 24, 100 miles southeast of Palma de Mallorca. No Americans were aboard.

SIXTY ARE KILLED IN BUCHAREST RAID

Bucharest, Sept. 27.—"Sixty persons, most of them women and children, were killed and many others injured by bombs dropped by a squadron of enemy aviators on a sanatorium and orphanage," an official statement says. "In the main part of the city on the night of Sept. 25 five children were killed by exploding bombs. Our aircraft have bombed the camps in Transylvania."

"On the North and Northwestern front there have been patrol encounters. In the Jiu valley in violent fighting, our troops are advancing. "On the southern front in Dobruja, on the right flank, the enemy attacked thrice in mass formation but was repulsed."

SPAIN PROTESTING U-BOAT ACTIVITY

Madrid, Sept. 27.—The Spanish government has sent a note to Berlin protesting energetically against the torpedoing of Spanish steamers by German submarines.

Recent dispatches from Spain said indignation is growing throughout the country over the loss of Spanish ships through the operation of German submarines. The Spanish Ship Owners' association recently presented a demand to the government that steps should be taken to protect Spanish shipping and declaring that the association could not guarantee the supply of goods necessary to Spanish welfare if the destruction of vessels continued.

GANG LEADER GUILTY; IS GIVEN 18 MONTHS

New York, Sept. 27.—William Butler, alleged brains of a national black-mail gang, pleaded guilty to a plot of impersonating a federal officer when arraigned before Justice Manton here and was sentenced to eighteen months in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

He is the first of the conspirators to be arraigned and his sentence marks the first victory of government agents tracking the alleged conspirators, who have preyed upon wealthy men and women.

John T. French, alias Homer French, was released on $10,000 bond. French was held in connection with the alleged extortion from Edward R. Welsh, wealthy Chicago business man.

Butler made no promises to the federal agents regarding giving information on which prosecution of other members of the gang might continue, it was said.

Killed Trying to Break Into Poorhouse.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 27.—Refused admittance to the county poor farm here because he was not a legal citizen of the state, Arthur Burke returned to the institution after dark and in trying to break into the cellar for a place to sleep, suffered injuries which caused his death. His body was found in the basement.

BODIES THROWN INTO WELLS

Many Other Supporters of the Bandit Leader Are Made Prisoners—Skirmish With Outlaws Near Juarez Is Reported.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 27.—Wholesale executions are taking place in Chihuahua City following the Villa attack, it was announced at military headquarters here.

Five hundred Villa adherents have been executed since the fight, the report to General George Bell, Jr., states, and many others have been taken prisoners.

American passengers who arrived from Chihuahua City brought reports of a fight between Villa's forces and Carranza troops under Colonel Zuazua near Santa Ysabel.

Colonel Zuazua lost a number of his men, the dead having been thrown into a deep well, the Americans reported.

General Bell also has a report of a skirmish at Arena, ten miles south of Juarez. He says wounded Carranza soldiers have been brought back to Juarez from that station. The Carranza officials in Juarez insist these wounded soldiers were brought from Chihuahua City following the fight with Villa forces.

Meet Villa Band.

Chihuahua City, Mex., Sept. 27.—An exploring column under General Cavazos encountered a body of Villistas west of Fresno, a station on the Mexican Northwestern railway, about ten miles out of Chihuahua City, but after an exchange of shots the Carranzistas retired to Fresno to await the coming of General Ramos with a body of cavalry. This is the report that General Cavazos made a special trip to town to give to General Trevino. There were no casualties, he said.

SUGGEST REVISION OF NEUTRALITY LAWS

New London, Conn., Sept. 27.—Revision of American neutrality laws, with a view to discouraging Americans from participating in Mexican factional conflicts, was suggested at a conference of the Mexican-American joint commission.

It was indicated that Mexico would be able to deal more effectively with rebels and ordinary bands of outlaws if the neutrality laws were amended in such a manner as to make it an offense for an American citizen to participate in any way in a movement against a government with which the United States is at peace.

The Mexicans charged that the inadequacy of the American laws made possible the propaganda of conspiracies on American soil against established order in Mexico.

NORTHWEST MEN MAY STRIKE

Employees of Four Roads Are Considering Such Action.

St. Paul, Sept. 27.—A strike of carmen employed on the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Canadian Pacific and St. Paul roads is being considered, according to leaders of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen here.

Discussion of a general strike throughout the Northwest followed efforts by the union to obtain formal recognition from the Great Northern, the only road to have an open shop where carmen are concerned.

Some leaders are advising holding demands for higher pay until the Great Northern recognizes the union. But conferences between union officials and Great Northern officials recently have proved unsatisfactory to the union men, it is said.

New London, Conn., Sept. 27.—Revision of American neutrality laws, with a view to discouraging Americans from participating in Mexican factional conflicts, was suggested at a conference of the Mexican-American joint commission.

It was indicated that Mexico would be able to deal more effectively with rebels and ordinary bands of outlaws if the neutrality laws were amended in such a manner as to make it an offense for an American citizen to participate in any way in a movement against a government with which the United States is at peace.

The Mexicans charged that the inadequacy of the American laws made possible the propaganda of conspiracies on American soil against established order in Mexico.

NORTHWEST MEN MAY STRIKE

Employees of Four Roads Are Considering Such Action.

St. Paul, Sept. 27.—A strike of carmen employed on the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Canadian Pacific and St. Paul roads is being considered, according to leaders of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen here.

Discussion of a general strike throughout the Northwest followed efforts by the union to obtain formal recognition from the Great Northern, the only road to have an open shop where carmen are concerned.

Some leaders are advising holding demands for higher pay until the Great Northern recognizes the union. But conferences between union officials and Great Northern officials recently have proved unsatisfactory to the union men, it is said.

SENT TO PRISON FOR LIFE

Farm Hand Had Attacked Young Girl Near New Prague.

Lesueur Center, Minn., Sept. 27.—Following indictment by the grand jury Sam Campbell, farm hand, charged with having attacked a seven-year-old girl near New Prague, June 17 last, pleaded guilty before Judge Morrison in district court here and was sentenced to the state prison in Stillwater for life.

Campbell's attorney said he had no defense to offer except that the defendant was under the influence of liquor at the time and had no knowledge of the crime.

Important Meeting and Discussion

The First Methodist church is being remodeled. Five carpenters are working under the supervision of John E. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Iver Knutson and daughter, Miss Mollie, have gone to Rondell, Montana, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Harry Peterson and little daughter have returned to their home in Crosby. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. M. J. Kaufman.

Mrs. Thomas Beare, Mrs. N. H. Ingersoll and Mrs. Howard Ingersoll returned today from Hubert where they have been spending the summer at Idylwild.

A baby boy has arrived to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts. It is the first in the family and Henry may be pardoned if he is trending on air, and circulating the cigars.

Gas, coal and wood ranges, the Paving at the postoffice square is of the most substantial sort. Duluth contractors are putting in the driveways at the federal building with a foundation of six inches of cement topped with vitrified brick.

Miss May B. Bruce, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Bruce, is visiting in Dubuque, Iowa, where she is a guest of her cousin, Prof. A. Klein, of the Academy of Music. She will also visit in Marshalltown, Iowa, before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Anderson have returned from a very pleasant visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nodell near Aitkin. They also visited Mrs. Wilcox, of Aitkin, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nodell, whom they had not seen since she was a child.

LITTLE PINE

Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Endicott and children were Emily callers last Tuesday.

Miss Jennie Mickelson visited school last Tuesday.

Mrs. Peterson and daughter, Myrtle, and Miss Tina Anderson were Sunday visitors at Henry's.

John Henry and son, Paul, were business callers at Crosby Wednesday.

Mr. Peterson threshed last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Yoeman is hauling lumber from the saw mill at Little Pine, for a school house to be built in Dist.
97, Aitkin county.

Mr. Sinclair and Joe Jacobson helped Mr. Bush build an addition to his house.

The Mickelson Bros. are doing some good work with their threshing machine this fall.

Bert Ward, who is going to build a house at Emily, is hauling the lumber from the saw mill.

Prisoners of Verdun.

During the Napoleonic wars of more than a century ago Verdun was the principal camp for Britons taken prisoner by the French. The confinement of these prisoners was not strict, and they had much leisure. It is said, for gambling, duelling and even for love-making among the damsels of the province. Verdun was even envied for getting the "keep" of these prisoners, and the mayor of Metz petitioned the French government for a share of them. Among these desirable Britons was Lord Yarmouth, said by some to be the original of the Marquis of Steyne in Thackeray's "Vanity Fair" and of Lord Monmouth in one of Dis-raeli's novels.

Cut or In.

"What's that noise?" asked the vis-floor above."

"Ah, then, it's probably the Cooleys' baby getting a tooth in!"

BEAVER BOARD*The Successful Ceiling

Stop right here! Look at the ceiling of the room you are in. Doesn't it show cracks and streaks?
Nine ceilings out of ten do. And at the best it is a broad unattractive expanse of monotony.

Sometimes the lath shows through with an unsightly picket-fence effect. You've probably noticed this.

You can never depend on lath and plaster ceilings. There is no telling when they will crack and fall. Expensive steel ceilings are more substantial than plaster, but who wants ceilings that rust, that are difficult to install and unattractive in appearance?

The successful ceiling is Beaver Board. It stays flat, never cracks, chips or falls and takes paint (all kinds) beautifully and economically. Makes rooms warmer in winter and cooler in summer.

The monotony is broken by pleasing paneling or beamed effects which may be as pronounced or as unobtrusive as you like.

The Beaver Board ceiling fits every need and fits it better than anything else you can buy.

Arthur B. Willing, of Brainerd, and Miss Elizabeth M. Koehler to be Married in October

(St. Cloud Journal-Press)
Mrs. Johanna Koehler of this city has announced the approaching marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth Marie to Arthur B. Willing. Miss Koehler is a graduate of the local high school and has been a popular resident of the city. For the past two years she has been teaching at Cable. Mr. Willing is a graduate of St. Mary's school and at present holds a responsible position with the Brainerd Gas and Electric company. The wedding will take place in October at the Cathedral.

Olson-Jones

A very pretty home wedding was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Olson, 1616 Norwood street.

Roy H. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jones of this city and Miss Ida G. Olson were the happy parties. Rev. G. Phil Sheridan of the First Congregational church officiating.

Miss Mae D. Jones, sister of the bridegroom, and Hugo L. Sundberg attended the bride and groom. To the closing strains of "O Promise Me" sung by Miss Hannah Swanson, the minister followed by the bridal party wended their way to the improvised altar and the impressive service of the Congregational church was read. The bride wore a dark blue traveling suit and black velvet hat.

After the service Miss Swanson also sang Carrie Jacobs Bond's beautiful selection "I Love You Truly." There were about thirty guests who sat down to a sumptuous meal.

Mr. Jones recently graduated from the Lewis Institute of Chicago with the degree of Bachelor of Science, and is now employed by the Barber Coleman company of Rockford, Ill., where he is becoming acquainted with the workings of the gear cutting machine turned out by them, preparatory to his becoming a salesman.

The newly-weds left between 5 and 6 o'clock for Little Falls by automobile and boarded the flyer for the city, and then to their new home in Rockford.

We regret losing these two young people from our city, but our good wishes go with them.

Bock-Peterson

Tuesday afternoon, September 19th the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bock, of "Pine Grove" farm, was the scene of a pretty wedding when their daughter Miss Clara Ella Bock became the wife of Arthur C. Peterson. The house was decorated with autumn leaves and evergreen held in place with white crepe paper.

While Mrs. John Wolburn rendered the wedding march the bridal party entered the living room, where the father gave the bride away.

Rev. J. H. Roper of the Methodist church used the short ring sermon that made the happy couple man and wife.

The bride's dress was of cream messaline with over dress of embroidered silk net. She wore a wedding veil decorated with pink and white roses and maiden hair fern, and also carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

The bridesmaid was a cousin of the groom, Miss Carrie Peterson. She wore white voile and carried pink and white roses and maiden hair fern.

The groom was dressed in a neat suit of black. The best man was a brother of the bride, Roy Bock.

After the marriage the guests of about 90, were served a delicious wedding supper in the dining room. In the middle of the table the gigantic wedding cake was placed.

The happy couple received many costly and useful presents.

The bride was one of the popular young ladies of the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson are living in Woodrow where the groom is employed as blacksmith in the mine. All join in wishing them a long and happy married life.

O'Brien-Krekelberg

(Minneapolis Tribune)

Miss Irene Zita O'Brien, daughter of Mr. J. J. O'Brien, 3013 Park avenue, and Mr. John H. Krekelberg, were married yesterday morning at the Pro-Cathedral of St. Mary, the Rev. Thomas E. Cullen officiating.

Miss Florence Jane Denny of Duluth was the brides' maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a dress of sand-colored net. Mr. G. P. O'Brien of Brainerd, Minn., was the best man.

The bride wore a gown of cream-colored crepe de chine and a corsage bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Her hat was of black taffeta trimmed with gold lace.

A wedding breakfast was served at the Minneapolis Athletic club after the ceremony. Covers were placed for 12 guests.

Mr. Krekelberg and his bride will be at home after October 15th, in Brainerd.

Cullen-Dunn

The wedding of Miss Maude Elizabeth Cullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Cullen of this city, to Mr. Lewis E. Dunn of Minneapolis, took place on Tuesday, September 26th at Duluth. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. W. Lynch, pastor of St. James church and was followed by a wedding luncheon, served at the Spalding hotel.

The bridal party consisted of only the immediate members of the two families, which included Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Cullen, Miss Marie Cullen, Mrs. Harriet L. Dunn, Miss Helen Dunn and Miss Harriet Dunn.

The bride is a graduate of Duluth Normal and has taught at Crosby, Minnesota. Mr. Dunn finished the University of Minnesota in 1911 and is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. He spent several years in the mining business at Crosby.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn have gone on a short wedding trip and will be at home in Minneapolis after Oct. 15.

To be a Season of Many Silhouettes. Charming Coats Made of Chanel

There is now no doubt about it. This is to be a season of many silhouettes. At the autumn openings of the couturiers, at least six different styles were endorsed. There were to be seen variations of the peasant costume, with its closely fitting bodice, sometimes laced at the front, and its full straight skirt.

Then, there was the moyen age silhouette, with its straight lines, broad waist and narrow sleeves. Then the Renaissance silhouette, which is much like that of the moyen age, but is fuller as to the skirt and is frequently characterized by the flowing sleeves without an undersleeve. Moreover, in the Renaissance gowns, especially those endorsed by Worth, who is the sponsor of this fashion, more gorgeous materials were used than in the moyen age costumes. The familiar 1830 style and the Empire also appeared and Directoire fashions, especially in suits, were among the most attractive things in the collections.

Chanel, as usual, is responsible for a number of very charming coats. One of the most attractive of these is made of black satin and sealskin, about half and half. Another is made of gray jersey cloth trimmed with natural colored rabbit, and still a third is of dark red velvet lined with red pongee, after the whim of the moment, and trimmed again with the versatile rabbit, which this time takes the form of a broad brown collar, and brown bands on the sleeves and pockets.

The vogue for novelty is expressed even in furs. Mrs. Castle has herself designed a voluminous coat of spotless ermine with a huge turnover collar and wide, deeply cuffed sleeves. Paquin has sent over a coat of chin-chilla which is very unusual in that it has what seems to be a loosely fitted bodice drawn into a closely fitted belt, below which is a full flaring skirt of the fur coming to within six inches from the bottom of the dress skirt.

It took Paquin, however, to produce the real sensation of the season. This is a coat of broadtail, with a full skirt and a scarf-like top which fastens with two big buttons on either side of the waist line. This scarf stands away from the throat at the neck, and there is not a vestige of sleeve to the entire garment. The Parisian will probably trust to the superiority of mind over weather to keep her tulle clad arms and neck warm. —From H. W. Gossard Corset Co., courtesy H. F. Michael Co.

Deferred Payments If Desired

Maxwell Motor Co. Inc., Detroit, Michigan.

Gentlemen:—

I beg leave to submit the enclosed blue print giving the results of an economy test made on a 1917 Stock Maxwell Touring Car, furnished by your Boston representatives.

The curve is self explanatory and needs no discussion other than the statement that the carburetor, which was stock, was adjusted to give the best combination of power, flexibility, speed and economy, for such conditions of touring as would ordinarily be encountered.

In tabular form the results (taken from the curve sheet) are as follows:

SPEED (Miles per hour)	ECONOMY (Miles per gallon)
10	33.7
15	32.7
20	31.2
25	29.8
30	26.1
35	23.0

Respectfully submitted,

D. L. Gallup.

DLG/K

NOTE that no unusual means were employed to get these results. The car used was taken from stock; the test was made with a full load and with top and windshield up; the regular Maxwell carburetor was used.

Any Maxwell car is capable of giving this same economy in gasoline consumption.

Maxwell operating economy matches its economy in first cost, making it The World's Greatest Motor Car Value.

POCKETS IN HATS

When milliners get started they stop at nothing. Witness the recent convention of New England milliners. Before that inspired body a man milliner made six hats in twenty minutes. He was greeted with rounds of well-deserved applause.

But he wasn't all. There were hats on display, hats two yards long, hats that may be worn inside out as well as the normal way, hats done in oils—that is, adorned with oil paintings of beautiful birds and flowers, etc. And above all, there was the hat with two pockets in the brim and a snap-flap purse in the crown.

Reports do not say whether the pockets are large enough for parcels or whether they are merely a new place for the very necessary small mirror and powder puff. Perhaps the size and use of such pockets may be left to the taste of the individual wearer. At any rate, there should be great possibilities in this innovation. The peasant women of Europe carry surprisingly large bundles on their heads. American women may come to this, too. The indefatigable shopper need not pause until she has filled her hat as well as her arms. Streets may have to be widened and street cars enlarged. But the New England milliner is right. If women want pockets, they must have them.

Amendment No. 1, to be voted on at the fall election, should receive the support of every resident of Minnesota, for its success means that two million or more acres of land, available for settlement will be taken advantage of. This also means that the lands will be placed on the tax roll and the more revenue received the less the tax rate for the whole people of the state. The proposed amendment will shortly be published in the Dispatch and it should be read and its provisions noted, in order that the public may be in full information of its contents. Too often constitutional amendments are passed by because the voter is unfamiliar with the subject matter and thus defeated when their adoption is for the public good.

Republicans of the Sixth district should remember that it is just as important to vote for the republican candidate for congress as it is to vote for the republican candidates for United States senator and governor. Remember to vote for Harold Knutson and you will support an excellent candidate, and one who will work for the people of his district and the people of the whole country, is the endorsement the St. Cloud Journal-Press gives the candidate for congress in this district, and whose home is in that city.

Gov. Burnquist has offered a reward of $250 that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the man who assaulted and twice shot Olga Dahl, the school teacher in a rural district in the western part of Itasca county. The entire country is aflame in that section and the offering of a reward will not increase the vigilance of the populace, in fact there are those who would pay that amount to be able to locate and mete out justice to the inhuman monster.

The Minneapolis Journal names some of the grave defects of the primary election law when it says they are "cross voting between parties, confusing multiplicity of unknown candidates and deadening of party spirit and party organization." If any more serious defects could exist

At the Best

One of the greatest events in the history of the motion picture art will take place at the Best tomorrow when Russia's dancer, Anna Pavlova, will appear on the screen in a massive spectacle entitled, "The Dumb Girl of Portici."

It is a remarkable illustration of modern advancement in the amusement field when one of the public's idols absolutely refuses to make public the money which she will find in her pay envelope at the end of each week. There is nothing the great opera diva so delighted as to see in the newspapers the grossly exaggerated statement of her weekly honorarium, but in the case of Anna Pavlova one may look in vain for any statement of the reasons which induced her to capitulate to the cameraman, all that is known, even to the officials of the Universal Film company, is that the amount Pavlova will receive for spending one month in Los Angeles, is saved to provide the capital which will finance the tour with the Boston Opera Company. Furthermore, it is believed that Pavlova's great incentive to appear before the camera, in "The Dumb Girl of Portici" was that it would enable her to achieve the goal of having a full fledged impresario and the first of her sex to back and direct a great opera company comprising over two hundred persons and entailing an expenditure of nearly $30,000 a week.

One may, therefore, no longer marvel at the tremendous strides of the motion picture art.

Owing to the length of this picture the first show will start promptly at 7:30 and the second at 9:15.

AN OLD TIME TREAT

Lampreys Once a Fairly Coveted Dish in New England.

PRIZED BY GENERAL STARK.

The Old Hero Even Refused One Year to Give Up One of His Sixteen Barrels to an Eel Hungry Neighbor. Their Former Fame Sung In Verse.

I was recently carried back to my boyhood days by a dinner of lampreys, locally known in the olden time as lampers eels because of their superficial resemblance to the true eel. The structure of the lamprey places it low down in the ranks of the fishes. In fact, a strict classification excludes it from them.

The lamprey is a vertebrate without a bone. Its spine is but cartilage, and there are no other tissues that are even as hard as cartilage. It has a sucking mouth and seven gill openings on each side of the body back of the head. It is the mouth and its peculiar use that are described in its scientific name, Petromyzon marinus, meaning ocean stone sucker. The color of the sea lamprey to distinguish it from the little lampreys of the rivers is brown mottled with black. Its maximum length is about three feet.

In the early days of New Hampshire lampreys came up the Merrimack and other rivers by myriad thousands and were caught by the settlers and salted down for the year's supply of meat as were salmon, shad and alewives that came up from the ocean at the same time early summer and for the same purpose, the depositing of their spawn in the fresh waters of the rivers and lakes. Most of the fish were caught with seines and dippers.

The lampreys were caught by hand in the shallower water of the brooks. The fishermen waded in where the water was shallow and the current swift and watched for the "eels," as the lampreys were invariably called. In a rapid current lampreys progress by darting for a short distance and then clinging by the sucking mouth to a stone while resting for another plunge. It was then that the men seized them and threw them to the shore, where helpers put them into receptacles.

So important was the catching of fish in those days in the town of Derryfield, now Manchester, that all work was suspended when they arrived. There is a story that lacks verification to the effect that the man appointed to watch for the advent of the fish sailed the vanguard on a Sunday morning. He hastened to the meeting house, where most of the town was assembled, and interrupted the sermon with the cry: "The fish have come! The fish have come!" The preacher stopped, pronounced the benediction, and the men all went fishing.

There is another story that General Stark, who had settled down on his farm after the Revolution, was asked by a neighbor for the loan of a barrel of "eels" for the winter. The general replied that he couldn't spare any, for he had but sixteen barrels to last him all spring.

However much or little truth there may be in these stories, it is a fact that lampreys formed an important part of the food of the settlers of Manchester. In 1841 at the centennial celebration of the incorporation of the town a poem was read by William Stark in which he thus referred to the lampreys:

Our fathers treasured the slimy prize,
They loved the eel as their very eyes,
And of one 't was said with a slender rifle
For a string of eels he sold his wife.
From the eels they formed their food in chief,
And eels were called the Derryfield beef,
And the marks of eels were so plain to trace
That the children looked like eels in the face.
And before they walked it is well confirmed
That the children never crept, but squirmed.
Such a mighty power did the squirmers wield,
O'er the goodly men of old Derryfield
It was often said that their only care,
Their only wish and their only prayer
For the present world and the world to come
Was a string of eels and a jug of rum.

My father's boyhood was passed in the days of the "eels," and long after the dams in the Merrimack stopped the ascent of the fish he bought lampreys whenever they could be obtained from fishermen farther downstream. Thus I learned to eat and like them. It was many years since I had tasted them when recently I was delighted by the present of a fine mess of them. They carried me back a generation.

Lampreys are found in the north Atlantic as far south as Virginia, besides being landlocked in some of the lakes in western and northern New York. While they are not abundant enough to make much impression on the present cost of living, a knowledge of their food value and the time and manner of catching them, minus prejudice, would do a little toward solving a modern problem.—W. H. Huse in Rural New Yorker.

Aberdeen Nurse Drings Acid and Is Near Death.

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 27.—Calling Walter Moe, recently named receiver of the Rapid City land office, to the telephone, Miss Margaret Mears, a trained nurse, told him that unless he gave her a satisfactory explanation of his attentions to another girl she would drink the contents of a bottle of acid which she held in her hands.

After a moment's conversation, with the receiver still to her ear, she carried out her threat. She is near death at a local hospital.

Wishfully Waiting

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 27.—Minnesota football enthusiasts are today wishfully waiting the outcome of the examination, which will either bar or make eligible James Ballentine and Jack Townley. The former is a star tackle of the 1914 team. He was barred last year because of scholastic troubles.

With Ballentine and Jack Townley on the squad the Gopher stock will leap several points. Capt. Baston, Frank Mayer and Albert Baston were today hoping a favorable outcome of their final quizzes. Rooters are hoping for the very same.

"Doc" Williams is contented to keep the squad busy with the same tactics as earlier in the week. A hard time is being had to discover a suitable punter. Ballentine is showing fair form kicking the ball about 60 yards. Bro and Ecklund are also showing considerable class.

The so-called eleven was: Capt. Hanson, left end; Hartwig, left tackle; Sinclair, left guard; George Hanson, center; Townley, right guard; Hauser, right tackle; Ecklund, right end; Long, quarter; Harold Hanson and Sprafka, half backs and Wyman, full.

Dr. Williams' son proved a tower of strength at center on the freshman eleven and the fight for the position is going to be keen. Williams is a peppy lad always in the thick of the fray.

Teberg, a candidate for full back, is another player that will bear watching. He should make a good substitute for Wyman if the latter becomes incapacitated at any time.

This week the Gophers will be put through a stiffer practice.

U. of M. Opens

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 27.—The University of Minnesota opened today with 6,000 students. This is an increase of about 400 over last year's attendance.

Sixty-four changes have been made in the faculty. Prof. Carl Lotus Becker, University of Missouri, has been transferred here. Dr. Carl W. Gray is now head of animal husbandry, here.

F. battery, First Minnesota artillery, the University's contribution to the federal organized militia, will arrive within a few days and probably will be discharged at once to enter school. Pres. Vincent has just returned from the national encampment at Plattsburg and a speaking tour of Minnesota county fairs.

A swimming pool has been installed for the girls.
A biology building is the only new structure.

In modern war it now costs on the average about $15,000 to kill a man. In the Boer war this expense ran up to nearly $40,000.

POCKETS IN HATS

When milliners get started they stop at nothing. Witness the recent convention of New England milliners. Before that inspired body a man milliner made six hats in twenty minutes. He was greeted with rounds of well-deserved applause.

But he wasn't all. There were hats on display, hats two yards long, hats that may be worn inside out as well as the normal way, hats done in oils—that is, adorned with oil paintings of beautiful birds and flowers, etc. And above all, there was the hat with two pockets in the brim and a snap-flap purse in the crown.

Reports do not say whether the pockets are large enough for parcels or whether they are merely a new place for the very necessary small mirror and powder puff. Perhaps the size and use of such pockets may be left to the taste of the individual wearer. At any rate, there should be great possibilities in this innovation. The peasant women of Europe carry surprisingly large bundles on their heads. American women may come to this, too. The indefatigable shopper need not pause until she has filled her hat as well as her arms. Streets may have to be widened and street cars enlarged. But the New England milliner is right. If women want pockets, they must have them.

Amendment No. 1, to be voted on at the fall election, should receive the support of every resident of Minnesota, for its success means that two million or more acres of land, available for settlement will be taken advantage of. This also means that the lands will be placed on the tax roll and the more revenue received the less the tax rate for the whole people of the state. The proposed amendment will shortly be published in the Dispatch and it should be read and its provisions noted, in order that the public may be in full information of its contents. Too often constitutional amendments are passed by because the voter is unfamiliar with the subject matter and thus defeated when their adoption is for the public good.

Republicans of the Sixth district should remember that it is just as important to vote for the republican candidate for congress as it is to vote for the republican candidates for United States senator and governor. Remember to vote for Harold Knutson and you will support an excellent candidate, and one who will work for the people of his district and the people of the whole country, is the endorsement the St. Cloud Journal-Press gives the candidate for congress in this district, and whose home is in that city.

Gov. Burnquist has offered a reward of $250 that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the man who assaulted and twice shot Olga Dahl, the school teacher in a rural district in the western part of Itasca county. The entire country is aflame in that section and the offering of a reward will not increase the vigilance of the populace, in fact there are those who would pay that amount to be able to locate and mete out justice to the inhuman monster.

The Minneapolis Journal names some of the grave defects of the primary election law when it says they are "cross voting between parties, confusing multiplicity of unknown candidates and deadening of party spirit and party organization." If any more serious defects could exist

One of the greatest events in the history of the motion picture art will take place at the Best tomorrow when Russia's dancer, Anna Pavlova, will appear on the screen in a massive spectacle entitled, "The Dumb Girl of Portici."

It is a remarkable illustration of modern advancement in the amusement field when one of the public's idols absolutely refuses to make public the money which she will find in her pay envelope at the end of each week. There is nothing the great opera diva so delighted as to see in the newspapers the grossly exaggerated statement of her weekly honorarium, but in the case of Anna Pavlova one may look in vain for any statement of the reasons which induced her to capitulate to the cameraman, all that is known, even to the officials of the Universal Film company, is that the amount Pavlova will receive for spending one month in Los Angeles, is saved to provide the capital which will finance the tour with the Boston Opera Company. Furthermore, it is believed that Pavlova's great incentive to appear before the camera, in "The Dumb Girl of Portici" was that it would enable her to achieve the goal of having a full fledged impresario and the first of her sex to back and direct a great opera company comprising over two hundred persons and entailing an expenditure of nearly $30,000 a week.

One may, therefore, no longer marvel at the tremendous strides of the motion picture art.

Owing to the length of this picture the first show will start promptly at 7:30 and the second at 9:15.

AN OLD TIME TREAT

Lampreys Once a Fairly Coveted Dish in New England.

PRIZED BY GENERAL STARK.

The Old Hero Even Refused One Year to Give Up One of His Sixteen Barrels to an Eel Hungry Neighbor. Their Former Fame Sung In Verse.

I was recently carried back to my boyhood days by a dinner of lampreys, locally known in the olden time as lampers eels because of their superficial resemblance to the true eel. The structure of the lamprey places it low down in the ranks of the fishes. In fact, a strict classification excludes it from them.

The lamprey is a vertebrate without a bone. Its spine is but cartilage, and there are no other tissues that are even as hard as cartilage. It has a sucking mouth and seven gill openings on each side of the body back of the head. It is the mouth and its peculiar use that are described in its scientific name, Petromyzon marinus, meaning ocean stone sucker. The color of the sea lamprey (to distinguish it from the little lampreys of the rivers) is brown mottled with black. Its maximum length is about three feet.

In the early days of New Hampshire lampreys came up the Merrimack and other rivers by myriad thousands and were caught by the settlers and salted down for the year's supply of meat as were salmon, shad and alewives that came up from the ocean at the same time early summer and for the same purpose, the depositing of their spawn in the fresh waters of the rivers and lakes. Most of the fish were caught with seines and dipnets.

The lampreys were caught by hand in the shallower water of the brooks. The fishermen waded in where the water was shallow and the current swift and watched for the "eels," as the lampreys were invariably called. In a rapid current lampreys progress by darting for a short distance and then clinging by the sucking mouth to a stone while resting for another plunge. It was then that the men seized them and threw them to the shore, where helpers put them into receptacles.

So important was the catching of fish in those days in the town of Derryfield, now Manchester, that all work was suspended when they arrived. There is a story that lacks verification to the effect that the man appointed to watch for the advent of the fish spoiled the variegated on a Sunday morning. He hastened to the meeting house, where most of the town was assembled, and interrupted the sermon with the cry: "The fish have come! The fish have come!" The preacher stopped, pronounced the benediction, and the men all went fishing.

There is another story that General Stark, who had settled down on his farm after the Revolution, was asked by a neighbor for the loan of a barrel of "eels" for the winter. The general replied that he couldn't spare any, for he had but sixteen barrels to last him till spring.

However much or little truth there may be in these stories, it is a fact that lampreys formed an important part of the food of the settlers of Manchester. In 1851 at the centennial celebration of the incorporation of the town a poem was read by William Stark in which he thus referred to the lampreys:

From the eels they formed their food in chief. And eels were called the Derryfield beef. And the marks of eels were so plain to trace. That the children looked like eels in the face. And before they walked it is well confirmed That the children never crept, but swarmed. Such a mighty power did the squirmers wield. O'er the goodly men of old Derryfield It was often said that their only care, Their only wish and their only prayer For the present world and the world to come Was a string of eels and a jug of rum.

My father's boyhood was passed in the days of the "eels," and long after the dams in the Merrimack stopped the ascent of the fish he bought lampreys whenever they could be obtained from fishermen farther downstream. Thus I learned to eat and like them. It was many years since I had tasted them when recently I was delighted by the present of a fine mess of them. They carried me back a generation.

Lampreys are found in the north Atlantic as far south as Virginia, besides being landlocked in some of the lakes in western and northern New York. While they are not abundant enough to make much impression on the present cost of living, a knowledge of their food value and the time and manner of catching them, minus prejudice, would do a little toward solving a modern problem.—W. ## BANQUET SERVED LAST NIGHT

Delegates Today are Touring the Range, Tonight will be Entertained at a Grand Ball

Yeomen field workers, in convention at Brainerd, were guests at the class initiation presented by Brainerd Homestead, No. 602. The degree team was praised for its exemplification of the work. Addresses were made by the visiting delegates. The banquet was prepared by George R. West and served by the ladies.

State Manager J. H. Murphy was unable to be present. Sickness of his wife made it impossible for him to be present.

Wednesday afternoon the visitors were given an automobile trip over the Cuyuna Iron range and visited the big iron pit mine of the Pittsburgh Steel Ore Co., at Riverton. This evening they will be entertained at a grand ball at the Gardner auditorium.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES TODAY

The U. C. T. men are certainly coming into their own. Not a day passes but one of them hits the front page in the Dispatch. And they stand high in the councils of the state. Witness Senator Wm. A. Campbell, of Minneapolis, of the 30th district. He sells stoves, lectures, etc. Senator T. J. Grose, a power in the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, and presiding at the convention of field workers in Brainerd, is senator from the 33rd district, Minneapolis. It just comes natural to a traveling man to talk and work.

Does newspaper advertising pay? Ask the Bull Durham people who are taking pages in the country press.

The Dispatch fights the mail order houses. And many local merchants, who do not advertise in any kind of a medium, say they do not see the need of advertising. One man said he got out a catalog annually. That was praiseworthy in a way. But he had it printed down at Minneapolis. What Brainerd needs is continuous evangelistic work in the matter of home printing, home advertising, home buying, home boosting.

This one originated in the recesses of a switch engine in the yards.

"Brainerd is getting close to nature," said one of the switchmen.

"How's that?" asked the guileless reporter.

"Well, it's this way. They use the moon for lighting the streets and the wind to sweep the streets."

Poor Madge. Her marriage was an absolute failure.

"How so?"

"Why, she hasn't been able to collect a cent of alimony since she got her divorce."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

TUESDAY LOSSES IN LIVERY BARN

Purdy Livery Building Worth $6,000 Leveled to the Ground. Insurance Carried $4,000

SMOKE AND WATER DAMAGE

At One Time Central Hotel, Hitch's Store, Gardner's Barn, Sherlund Garage Were on Fire

So intense was the heat of Tuesday's fire that the flames at the A. Purdy barn cracked plate glass windows at the Iron Exchange hotel and the clothing store of Johnson Brothers & Halberg.

The Purdy livery, one of the best in the city, was leveled to the ground. Not a wall is standing in the smoking ruins. His building is valued at approximately $6,000 and contained some $4,000 of equipment. He carried $3,000 insurance on the building and $1,000 on equipment.

So fiercely did the fire rage that at one time, about 2:45 p. m., three upper windows in the Central hotel were on fire. Molstad's roof was blazing. Hitch's fuel store was on fire. James Gardner's barn was smoking and the rear of Sherlund's garage was blazing. It was the hottest fire in years and caused the firemen untold trouble in fighting it. Starting in the loft of the barn, the burning hay emitted dense clouds of black smoke which nearly choked the firemen. The wind blew to the east. The heavy party wall to the west of the livery stable saved the Gardner block.

Tom Kokolias, the popcorn man, was a loser, having stored considerable stuff at Purdy's. He lost 6 cases of pop, 500 pounds of popcorn which the flames popped before he could salvage it, 1 coat, 1 hat and 1 umbrella. No insurance.

Smoke and water and flames damaged the Central hotel of Iver Holden. He carried $4,000 insurance on the building and $1,000 on contents. The second floor was scorched, said Mr. Holden. He was not able to estimate his total damage.

Jens Molstad, the tailor, saved his place of business. It is the third fire the shop has emerged from successfully. The roof was on fire several times and willing helpers assisted to remove his stock. Smoke, water, and flames contributed to the damage. Mr. Molstad carried $1,300 on the building and $300 on stock.

There was a popping of ammunition early in the fire which sounded like the machine gun work of the Germans.

Provisional shifting of the wind and splendid work of the firemen saved the business block from destruction. Every man on the firemen force is entitled to thanks.

Cinders blew down to the National hotel and the roof was on fire.

EDITOR BRAINERD DAILY NEWS

Eight Page Daily with Associated Press Reports Quit When the Payroll Stopped

J. R. McVean, of Minneapolis, with the American Type Founders Company, is intimately acquainted with newspaper work in the early days of Brainerd. He was editor of the Brainerd Daily News from May 15, 1887 to October of that year, when the plant was removed to Superior, Wis. It was a fine paper, eight page, Associated Press reports, etc.

"What made the Daily News give up the ghost?" was asked Mr. McVean.

"Well," said he, "the payroll stopped."

The Daily News was a staunch C. F. Kindred organ. The competition in the field those days was three weeklies, the Brainerd Journal edited by Col. H. C. Stivers, the Tribune of Col. A. J. Halsted and the Dispatch of Ingersoll & Wieland. The Daily News had its headquarters on the south side of Laurel street in the middle of the block.

Mr. McVean remembers one time when Editor Stivers was offended about something or other and he notified Editor McVean that he was coming down to lick him and he appeared with a lumberjack as reinforcements.

McVean was always a diplomat and he told Col. Stivers to wait half an hour and he would be glad to engage in combat, but that he was awfully busy at that moment getting out the paper.

Col. Stivers was accommodating and he sat down on a pile of paper and waited and eventually fell asleep. With so much of the enemy reduced, Mr. McVean made an easy conquest of the lumberjack, buying him several stiff drinks until the hardy son of the woods forgot his mission.

Later Mr. McVean went to Chicago and managed the large printing plant of John Alexander Dowle, noted head of the Zion church.

"Your town has made a wonderful improvement," said Mr. McVean, as he commented on Brainerd. "The improvement has been physically and morally."

RETURNS FROM THE BORDER

A. J. Wohlfahrt, of Brainerd, Served in Co. E, First Minnesota, Three Months

THE JOB WAS NO SINECURE

Men Worked as Hard as Though Preparing for Actual War, Drilled Seven Hours Daily

Looking at as a fiddle, A. J. Wohlfahrt, of Brainerd, has returned from three months spent at the Mexican border where he was stationed with Co. E, First Minnesota at Llano Grande.

"It was no picnic," said Mr. Wohlfahrt, "The men were worked and drilled as though war was to break out the very next minute. We had no skirmishes with Mexicans. We were drilled seven hours a day and the rest of the time was put in working, with some hours for recreation."

When the soldiers arrived at Llano Grande, the ground was covered with a primal growth of cacti and other tough vegetation. A mile might find it a paradise providing there was enough water around. Days were spent in reducing this vegetation and country to civilized shape.

From 16,000 to 17,000 soldiers were stationed at that point. This included infantry, artillery and signal corps, sanitary train, hospital corps, etc. Co. E was in command of Capt. August Anderson, of St. Paul and this company showed up as well as the balance of the Minnesota contingent.

U. S. army officers could tell a Minnesota man as soon as they saw him. Gangue fever affected some of the men. This rages 10 days and affects the joints so they crack when a fellow walks. Malaria also bothered some of them. Seventeen kinds of long-legged bugs, varying only in the number of legs, crawled around on the ground. The white ants had a particular fondness for eating up tent ropes.

Hard marches were made in the mud and when it rained, said Private Wohlfahrt, it simply came down in sheets like the tropics. All in all, said Mr. Wohlfahrt, enlisting and serving at the border was a man's job, regardless of the fact that not a Mexican was chased. He returned with seven others having dependents, six had wives and one a dependent mother.

Hougstad Sisters String Quartet Lauded for Their Playing. They Played Before Artists

C. Hougstad, former pastor of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church, returned last night with his family from an extended auto trip through Wisconsin and Iowa. They visited relatives and friends in and about Galeville, Wis., and also his former charge at Lodi, Wis. From there they passed through Prairie du Chien, Wis., and by ferry over to McGregor, Ia. The later place was interesting to Mrs. Hougstad from the fact that her father in these early pioneer days hauled wheat from his homestead near Northwood to this, then important river port, the trip taking about two weeks' time. From there they went to Decorah, Iowa, where is located Luther College, from which Mr. Hougstad graduated in 1893.

Thence the journey was to Northwood, Iowa, the childhood home of Mrs. Hougstad. After a few days in the Twin Cities the party arrived safely in Brainerd about 7 p. m. last night.

The Hougstad Sisters' String quartet gave seven concerts on the trip and by special request repeated the program three times at private gatherings. Many kind words of appreciation for the juvenile performers were spoken. In addition to the regular receipts at the concerts their old friends were very lavish in bestowing presents, including a bicycle.

The "Lodi Enterprise" has the following to say after their appearance there:

The Hougstad Sisters acquitted themselves admirably at their concert last Friday evening. The young ladies, ranging in age from 15 to 9 years, showed excellent musical conception in their renditions on the violins and cello, and we predict for them a very successful career. Mrs. Hougstad showed skill at the piano as accompanist, and especially so in her solo selection. The attendance at the concert was good considering the extreme heat of the evening, and all were generous in showing their appreciation of each number of the program.

While in Decorah, Iowa, the members of the young quartet were individually submitted to a test of musical aptitude by Prof. Carlo A. Sperati, director of music at Luther College and in Minneapolis by Otto Meyer.

Yeomen field workers, in convention at Brainerd, were guests at the class initiation presented by Brainerd Homestead, No. 602. The degree team was praised for its exemplification of the work. Addresses were made by the visiting delegates. The banquet was prepared by George R. West and served by the ladies.

State Manager J. H. Murphy was unable to be present. Sickness of his wife made it impossible for him to be present.

Wednesday afternoon the visitors were given an automobile trip over the Cuyuna iron range and visited the big iron pit mine of the Pittsburgh Steel Ore Co., at Riverton. This evening they will be entertained at a grand ball at the Gardner auditorium.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES TODAY

The U. C. T. men are certainly coming into their own. Not a day passes but one of them hits the front page in the Dispatch. And they stand high in the councils of the state. Witness Senator Wm. A. Campbell, of Minneapolis, of the 36th district. He sells stoves, lectures, etc. Senator T. J. Grose, a power in the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, and presiding at the convention of field workers in Brainerd, is senator from the 33rd district, Minneapolis. It just comes natural to a traveling man to talk and work.

Does newspaper advertising pay? Ask the Bull Durham people who are taking pages in the country press.

The Dispatch fights the mail order houses. And many local merchants, who do not advertise in any kind of a medium, say they do not see the need of advertising. One man said he got out a catalog annually. That was praiseworthy in a way. But he had it printed down at Minneapolis. What Brainerd needs is "continuous evangelistic work in the matter of home printing, home advertising, home buying, home boosting."

This one originated in the recesses of a switch engine in the yards.

"Brainerd is getting close to nature," said one of the switchmen.

"How's that?" asked the guileless reporter.

"Well, it's this way. They use the moon for lighting the streets and the wind to sweep the streets."

TUESDAY LOSSES IN LIVERY BARN

Purdy Livery Building Worth $6,000
Leveled to the Ground. Insurance Carried $4,000

SMOKE AND WATER DAMAGE

At One Time Central Hotel, Hitch's Store, Gardner's Barn, Sherlund Garage Were on Fire

So intense was the heat of Tuesday's fire that the flames at the A. Purdy barn cracked plate glass windows at the Iron Exchange hotel and the clothing store of Johnson Brothers & Halberg.

The Purdy livery, one of the best in the city, was leveled to the ground. Not a wall is standing in the smoking ruins. His building is valued at approximately $6,000 and contained some $4,000 of equipment. He carried $2,000 insurance on the building and $1,000 on equipment.

So fiercely did the fire rage that at one time, about 2:45 p. m., three upper windows in the Central hotel were on fire. Molstad's roof was blazing. Hitch's fuel store was on fire. James Gardner's barn was smoking and the rear of Sherlund's garage was blazing. It was the hottest fire in years and caused the firemen untold trouble in fighting it. Starting in the loft of the barn, the burning hay curled dense clouds of black smoke which nearly choked the firemen. The wind blew to the east. The heavy party saved to the west of the livery stable saved the Gardner house.

Tom Kokolias, the popcorn man, was a loser, having stored considerable stuff at Purdy's. He lost 6 cases of pop, 600 pounds of popcorn which the flames popped before he could salvage it, 1 coat, 1 hat and 1 umbrella. No insurance.

Smoke and water and flames damaged the Central hotel of Iver Holden. He carried $4,000 insurance on the building and $1,000 on contents. The second floor was scorched, said Mr. Holden. He was not able to estimate his total damage.

Jens Molstad, the tailor, saved his place of business. It is the third fire the shop has emerged from successfully. The roof was on fire several times and willing helpers assisted to remove his stock. Smoke, water, and flames contributed to the damage. Mr. Molstad carried $1,300 on the building and $300 on stock.

There was a popping of ammunition early in the fire which sounded like the machine gun work of the Germans.

Providential shifting of the wind and splendid work of the firemen saved the business block from destruction. Every man on the firemen force is entitled to thanks.

250,000 READY TO QUIT WORK

Union Officials Expect Total to Reach Half-Million Mark.

ARBITRATION ACT IS FRAMED

Effort to Tie Up Metropolis Reaches Acute Stage—Financiers Are Attacked in Pamphlets Issued by Unions Leaders.

New York, Sept. 27.—With the announcement by labor leaders that approximately 250,000 union workers in various trades would quit their places in aid of the striking carmen here, the effort to tie up virtually all industries in Greater New York reached an acute stage.

The union officials declared that an additional 100,000 workers would strike Thursday and another 100,000 Friday, making a total of 450,000 out by the end of the week.

It was asserted that 6,000 brewery workers, 115,000 employees in the building trades and 250,000 members of the United Hebrew Trades were in favor of a sympathetic strike.

Twelve thousand teamsters also were reported ready to quit work Thursday or Friday.

A meeting of the executive council of the building trades was called for Thursday to take final action, after the business agents in Manhattan and the Bronx had voted for the strike.

200,000 as a "Starter."

Mayor Mitchell, whose efforts to settle the differences between the striking carmen and the transit companies have failed, repeatedly, summoned labor leaders before him when he heard of their plans. He said he desired to be informed directly as to what might be expected.

The union officials, he announced, told him they expected 200,000 workers to strike "as a starter."

After a meeting of the joint labor conference committee, strikers were supplied with pamphlets for distribution throughout the city, in which attacks were made on the so called Morgan and Rockefeller interests.

Members of the state legislature from this city who called on Governor Whitman and urged him to convene the senate and assembly in an extraordinary session to deal with the strike situation, submitted a draft of a proposed arbitration act. The act outlined would provide a fine of $5,000 and revocation of the license of a corporation that breaks an agreement to arbitrate and a fine against the union breaking such agreement, where the public interest is affected or likely to be affected.

Railroad Refuses I. W. W. Leaders as Freight.

North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 27.—Forty men, the majority of whom are reported to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World, were locked in refrigerator cars here by 150 citizens who were armed with baseball bats and axe handles.

The men were marched to the cars by the armed citizens, who intended shipping them out of town, but the railroad refused to handle the cars. The men were freed from the cars and marched back to town again. Ten alleged leaders had been arrested previously.

YOUTH CONFESSES MURDER

Pleads Guilty to Slaying Fifteen-Year-Old Sweetheart.

Aurora, Ill., Sept. 27.—Paul Verhoeye, a nineteen-year-old boy, pleaded guilty in the Kane county circuit court at Geneva to the murder of his child sweetheart, Gwendolyn Holden, who was slain May 24 last. Verhoeye strangled the girl, who was fifteen years old.

In a confession made to the police he said he killed the girl because she laughed at him when he upbraided her "for going out with other fellows."

Kills Companion in Play.

The veteran actor was found dying a week ago in a cheap rooming house in which he lived alone and practically in poverty. No one knew where he was born, nor if he had any relatives.

Hawkins, at the height of his fame, was comedian in "Tennessee's Partner." He was seventy-five years old.

STEAKS COVER LANDSCAPE

Steer Eats Dynamite and Then Charges into Tree.

Glenwood City, Wis., Sept. 27.—Seven steers on the farm of the Cavanaugh Brothers in New Haven township ate a number of sticks of dynamite from a box.

Prancing around with an unusual show of high spirits one steer charged into a tree and for the next few moments porterhouse steaks and other rare cuts rained about the immediate district.

The explosion shook the entire neighborhood.

Admits Extorting Fortune.

New York, Sept. 27.—Edward A. Lee, forty-two years old, an inventor, accused by Edward Lauterbach, a well known lawyer, of having extorted about $100,000 from him during the last eighteen years, pleaded guilty to the indictment against him. He will be sentenced Oct. 3. The maximum penalty for the crime is fifteen years.

Safer Banks for Illinois.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Legislation providing for the state supervision of private banks was recommended by the September grand jury. It also was recommended that private banks be required, by furnishing bonds or by other security, to provide ample protection for depositors pending action by the legislature.

Chooses Casket; Takes Poison.

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 27.—Mrs. Mamie C. Van Alstine visited an undertaker, looked at a number of caskets, returned home and took poison. She died in the arms of her nephew, who was here to take her to his home in California. Mrs. Van Alstine has been despondent since the death of her husband in April.

Two Killed in Elevator Crash.

Moline, Ill., Sept. 27.—Charles Mason and Peter Western were killed and three other workmen were injured, probably mortally, when a cable broke and the men plunged four floors down an elevator shaft in the warehouse of the John Deere Wagon company here.

Giant Chicago Policeman Dies.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Edward E. Martini, Chicago's biggest policeman, is dead. He weighed 431 pounds and was 6 feet 2 inches tall. For several years he was a member of the gambling squad, where he was of great value in breaking down doors in raids.

BOTH SIDES WAIT FOR A SURPRISE

Democrats and Republicans Looking For the Unexpected.

EVERYBODY SURE OF VICTORY

President Wilson Is In Good Position For Springing a Campaign Shock Which Democrats Say Will Insure Victory—Wisconsin and Washington on List of Doubtful States.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 29.—[Special.]—Waiting for the unexpected aptly describes the attitude of many Republicans and Democrats in regard to the presidential election. Men of both parties after spending a few weeks at national headquarters or at home have returned for a brief visit to Washington, and it is found that both sides express confidence, but both are somewhat uneasy.

"Barring earthquakes or accidents, Hughes will be elected," is what the Republicans say.

"Unless something unexpected happens Wilson must win," say the Democrats.

Watching Wilson.

"Wilson will turn a trick that will land him right at the finish," remarked one of the shrewd political observers. "That is what is making the Republicans uneasy. Wilson can do it, and he has the whole machinery of the United States government to do it with. Just watch him. He is the best politician this country has known since Roosevelt. Being a good politician means that a man is in a position where he can play the game, and no position affords such an opportunity for playing the political game as the presidency."

Worrying Washington.

Washington more than any other city is worried over the high cost of living. The national capital is a city of clerks more than any other place. These people have been working at the same salaries for many years. There has been no increase in the rate of pay, and the prices have been steadily advancing. How to make both ends meet has become a serious problem.

For the past six years the high cost of living has been the football of politics, and during that time the prices have steadily advanced. To those who pay and who have not had their wages increased the problem has become a condition and not a theory.

Wisconsin and Washington.

While the Republicans say they are confident of winning the Progressives in the east, there seem to be some very doubtful conditions in two states where Progressives have triumphed in the senatorial primaries. La Follette in Wisconsin and Poinsette in Washington won over the regular Republican candidates, but that does not seem to assure the states for the Republican national ticket. The regulars are dissatisfied and may vote Democratic on that account.

There are other conditions in both states which are reported as giving the Republicans considerable concern. As showing the diversion of thought and interest of the people it is said that Hughes may lose Wisconsin on account of the antagonism aroused by his declaration for woman suffrage, while the women of Washington are going to vote against him because Wilson has kept us out of war.

Primary Impossibilities.

During the closing days of congress when the campaign publicity bill was under discussion there was something said about election laws and primary systems in different states which was interesting. Senator Sherman of Illinois said that in his city of Springfield there were 302 names on the ballot, and he, though pretty well acquainted, knew only twenty-seven of the men. In Chicago there were 3,000 names on the ballot, making it absolutely impossible for any one to vote intelligently. Primary laws will have to be materially amended before they are efficient.

Elastic Election Figures.

There is nothing that campaign managers and election statisticians cannot do with figures when these figures have been used in computing the votes in elections and primaries. Before the campaign had advanced very far it was shown by the figures in the campaign of 1912 by men in both parties that both Hughes and Wilson would be elected. Then the figures of 1914 were called forth, and both sides proved a victory. Then came the Maine election, and the figures elected Wilson and Hughes. Now we have the New York primaries, and Hughes and Wilson are both elected again on that showing. All this has been done with figures.

Smoot Scents Victory.

Senator Smoot of Utah, the leader in the Republican national convention and often called the Republican leader in the senate, spent a week in New York after congress adjourned and found that everything was safe for the Republicans save that there might be a question about the senate, although they hoped to win a majority in that body. The Utah senator not only said all this for publication, but privately assured his close friends that he believed what he was saying.

250,000 READY TO QUIT WORK

Union Officials Expect Total to Reach Half-Million Mark.

ARBITRATION ACT IS FRAMED

Effort to Tie Up Metropolis Reaches Acute Stage—Financiers Are Attacked in Pamphlets Issued by Unions Leaders.

New York, Sept. 27.—With the announcement by labor leaders that approximately 250,000 union workers in various trades would quit their places in aid of the striking carmen here, the effort to tie up virtually all industries in Greater New York reached an acute stage.

The union officials declared that an additional 100,000 workers would strike Thursday and another 100,000 Friday, making a total of 450,000 out by the end of the week.

It was asserted that 6,000 brewery workers, 115,000 employees in the building trades and 250,000 members of the United Hebrew Trades were in favor of a sympathetic strike.

Twelve thousand teamsters also were reported ready to quit work Thursday or Friday.

A meeting of the executive council of the building trades was called for Thursday to take final action, after the business agents in Manhattan and the Bronx had voted for the strike.

200,000 as a "Starter."

Mayor Mitchell, whose efforts to settle the differences between the striking carmen and the transit companies have failed, repeatedly, summoned labor leaders before him when he heard of their plans. He said he desired to be informed directly as to what might be expected.

The union officials, he announced, told him they expected 200,000 workers to strike "as a starter."

After a meeting of the joint labor conference committee, strikers were supplied with pamphlets for distribution throughout the city, in which attacks were made on the so called Morgan and Rockefeller interests.

Members of the state legislature from this city who called on Governor Whitman and urged him to convene the senate and assembly in an extraordinary session to deal with the strike situation, submitted a draft of a proposed arbitration act. The act outlined would provide a fine of $5,000 and revocation of the license of a corporation that breaks an agreement to arbitrate and a fine against the union breaking such agreement, where the public interest is affected or likely to be affected.

AGITATORS LOCKED IN CAR

Railroad Refuses to W. W. Leaders as Freight.

North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 27.—Forty men, the majority of whom are reported to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World, were locked in refrigerator cars here by 150 citizens who were armed with baseball bats and axe handles.

The men were marched to the cars by the armed citizens, who intended shipping them out of town, but the railroad refused to handle the cars. The men were freed from the cars and marched back to town again. Ten alleged leaders had been arrested previously.

YOUTH CONFESSES MURDER

Pleads Guilty to Slaying Fifteen-Year-Old Sweetheart.

Aurora, Ill., Sept. 27.—Paul Verholze, a nineteen-year-old boy, pleaded guilty in the Kane county circuit court at Geneva to the murder of his child sweetheart, Gwendolyn Holden, who was slain May 24 last. Verholze strangled the girl, who was fifteen years old.

In a confession made to the police he said he killed the girl because she laughed at him when he upbraided her "for going out with other fellows."

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Charles B. Hawkins, a famous comedian of Civil war days, was buried here without a mourner.

The veteran actor was found dying a week ago in a cheap rooming house in which he lived alone and practically in poverty. No one knew where he was born, nor if he had any relatives.

Hawkins, at the height of his fame, was comedian in "Tennessee's Pardner." He was seventy-five years old.

TOBACCO IS PREPARED FOR SMOKERS UNDER THE PROCESS DISCOVERED IN MAKING EXPERIMENTS TO PRODUCE THE MOST DELICIOUS AND WHOLESOME TOBACCO FOR CIGARETTE AND PIPE SMOKERS. PROCESS PATENTED JULY 30TH 1907. R.J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.

THE Prince Albert tin, and in fact, every Prince Albert package, has a real message to you on its reverse side. You'll read:—"Process Patented July 30th, 1907." That means that the United States Government has granted a patent on the process by which Prince Albert is made. And by which tongue bite and throat parch are cut out! Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert awaiting you in tippy red bags, 5c; tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidor, with sponge-moistener top, that keeps the tobacco in such fine condition—always!

CAMP BEARS NAME OF ENLISTED MAN SLAIN.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 27.—An unexampled compliment was paid the memory of an enlisted man when, by order of Brigadier General Bell, the camp occupied here by troops of the Tenth provisional division was named "Camp Owen Bierna," after a sergeant belonging to the Twenty-third infantry, who was killed in a saloon last Thursday in performance of his duty with the provost guard.

Sergeant Bierna had completed nearly thirty years in the army.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowels pores do.
